Hunstanton and District LC went clay pigeon shooting one wet July evening.

It was all a bit nerve racking for us novices, but after getting used to the initial "kick back" we all did really well.

We settled down for a damp BBQ in the dark, turning our car headlights on so we could see our food only to find that there had been a cock up on the catering front - none of us had brought rolls, but all of us had bought several puddings each!!!!
